

ASSEMBLY BILL

No. 135

Introduced by Assembly Member Reyes

January 16, 2003

An act to amend Section 207 of the Penal Code, relating to kidnapping.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 135, as introduced, Reyes. Kidnapping.

Existing law regulates the disposition of human remains, and makes it a misdemeanor to remove uncremated human remains from the district where death occurs, except as specified. Existing law provides that every person who forcibly, or by any other means of instilling fear, steals, takes, holds, detains, or arrests any person in this state, and carries the person into another country, state, or county, or into another part of the same county, is guilty of kidnapping, and defines kidnapping to include several other related types of conduct. Kidnapping is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for 3, 5, or 7 years, except that if the person kidnapped is under 14 years of age at the time of the crime, it is punishable by 5, 8, or 11 years in the state prison, except as specified.

This bill would provide that every person who forcibly, or by any other means, steals, takes, or moves the body of any child under the age of 14 years who has been the victim of a homicide in this state, and carries that body into another country, state, or county, or into another part of the same county, without permission of the agency responsible for the investigation of homicides at the location of the killing of the child, is guilty of kidnapping.

The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement.

This bill would provide that no reimbursement is required by this act for a specified reason.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: yes. State-mandated local program: yes.

21 for a crime or infraction, within the meaning of Section 17556 of 22 the Government Code, or changes the definition of a crime within
23 the meaning of Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California
24 Constitution.
